"HEY, GREAT PUMPKIN, I'M WAITING FOR YA!" chortles three-year-old Ty-Vera Brown as she gleefully perches on top of a fat orange pumpkin in Carmel Valley. While hundreds of school children make their annual bus trip to Carmel Valley this week to pick out "the biggest pumpkin you can carry", the fields gleam like giant yellow-orange beacons heralding the arrival of still another Halloween. This year the Great Pumpkin should put on his best show yet, since many scary parties are planned for Friday night, with the ritual trick-or-treating on tap for Saturday night. For information on the Great Pumpkin's special party at the Carmel Valley Community Center, see page 12.

The Candidates Speak...

Wood and Murray discuss state issues

Oliver Murray, Democrat

Oliver Murray, a member of the Seaside City Council, is the Democratic candidate for the 34th Assembly District seat. He is a nursing home administrator and represents Seaside on the Association of Monterey Bay Area Government. He is 49 and the father of four children.

Mr. Murray, will you tell our readers what the key issues are in this campaign, as you see it?

On a state-wide basis, the campaign has been orchestrated behind a smokescreen of violence and the threat of violence. "Law and Order" and the fear issues largely obscure what I think are the real issues of this campaign.

This is a campaign which must address itself to "Economic Royalism," as against the general public interest.

Today there is an admitted seven percent unemployment rate in the state of California and informed sources in San Francisco say that real unemployment amounts to approximately 10 percent.

I think the Republican administrations, both nationally and in the state, have promoted the ideology that a profitable and stable society must rest on a high rate of unemployment. I think we're faced with issues of progressive unemployment, progressive increases in the prices of the commodities we buy, and progressive inflation that makes money for the creditor and yet depreciates the value of the fixed income of the wage-earning person.

Can you tell us what it is about you that makes you better qualified than the incumbent to deal with this problem, and others?

My candidacy has been a candidacy that tried to propose practical solutions to problems that exist in the state of California.

I've proposed a consumer protection law which would cover all merchandisable items in the American economy from perishables to expendables, consumer durables and even including real estate.

This is necessary today because I think that planned obsolescence and the evolving relationship between the consumer and the producer or merchandise is a national relationship rather than a relationship between the merchant from whom one buys his products.

I'll give you an example of that: In the late 50's the normal warranty on automobiles was four months or 4,000 miles. The warranty became a gimmick in the merchandising of automobiles and during the 60's manufacturers increased warranties to 5 years or 50,000 miles.

In 1971 the warranty on automobiles again will be 10,000 miles or one year. The warranty has become just a paper gimmick, and that is an unfair relationship between the consumer and the source of his merchandise. I believe it's time that the consumer was guaranteed certain use value, or production and performance value, for the merchandise he buys.

What are some of the other things you have proposed?

Well, I have proposed the rehabilitation of the fishing industry on a much-increased scale from the shoreline fishing industry that we now have. For example, we have 300 liberty ships and ships of other types sitting mothballed up at Suisun Bay. I would like to see -- through state and private incentives -- a cooperative venture giving California the opportunity to fully develop the resources of the Pacific Ocean.

We know that the nutritional needs of the future cannot be satisfied by land production. The Pacific Ocean is the other half of the California "ranch" and we should not abdicate a world resource such as the Pacific Ocean to the Russian state-subsidized fishing industry. Remodeling the mothballed fleet in Suisun Bay would enable us to float canneries which would utilize the whole Pacific Ocean for the development of our nutritional needs.

I've also proposed, as Alan Patee did perhaps 10 years ago, that a state lottery be initiated to raise as much as a billion dollars a year in public revenues. This is necessary. There is a demand for state services and present revenue sources are immensely overburdened. The lottery proposal would create voluntary taxation. This would take pressure off existing revenue sources and give us a chance to honestly and creatively produce any tax reform that might be necessary.

Real tax reform has to come through revision of the State Constitution. Tax laws are constitutional law and can only be revised through ballot propositions and not through legislative process.

If I am elected I will promptly initiate into the state legislature a carbon copy of the National Labor Relations Law tailored to California agriculture. It's obvious at this point that organization of agriculture in California is inevitable. Having gone this far, it's our duty to establish a legal framework for organizational development of agriculture.

Law is a precondition of order in a democratic society and I think it's important that having come to the obvious point we should take on the responsibility of molding our future rather than letting it "happen" to us.

Now, Mr. Murray, can you tell us what it is about your background, your experience, or your person that makes you feel that you can more effectively represent the voters of the 34th Assembly District?

I believe that since Governor Reagan ascended to power in California that the discipline of the Republican Party has become so tough that it exceeds the discipline of even the

Assemblyman Robert Wood, Republican

Assemblyman Bob Wood last week discussed the major issues in his campaign for re-election from the 34th Assembly District. Wood, 54, is a Republican and former chairman of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors.

In the Assembly he serves as vice-chairman of the Committee on Natural Resources and Conservation, and is a member of the Assembly Committee on Agriculture, Public Employment and Retirement.

What do you feel are the major issues in your campaign?

"The environment and property taxes. Both are of principal concern to people in this area.

"Many of the environmental bills passed in the Assembly died in the Senate last year. I don't criticize the Senate, but I feel it is a matter of education. I am considered a liberal in conservation because I feel that most of the problems that have developed in this field require public tax dollars to correct.

"I was very interested in the protection of coastline bills. All four of them failed in the Senate. The problem is a legislator needs more time to study all the issues. So many bills are thrown into the hopper, and it isn't fair to the sponsor to have them voted on before there is time for adequate study."

What do you propose to do about property taxes?

"This is still uppermost in consideration. I supported the governor's tax program wholeheartedly, although I felt it was still not a big enough shift to sales tax and increased income tax.

"The property tax is an aggressive tax. A person can find that when he retires, his income goes down but still his property taxes go up. This is a wrong conception, and is going to have to be changed.

"A tax bill will be reintroduced next session. Some people feel more allowance should be given to renters, and maybe this will be improved in the new bill.

"The Democratic party says this tax program has weaknesses. I personally feel it is a step in the right direction. For instance, if the tax program had been passed, a home valued at $20,000 in Monterey County, which would now pay about $400 a year in property tax, would pay only $256 under the new program."

OLIVER MURRAY

Marine Corps. This was demonstrated in the special election that put my opponent in office. They came in with a highly packaged merchandising program and a somewhat unknown man and took a well-established politician and just blew him out of office.

Monterey County should have a voice in the legislature rather than a vote for Governor Reagan's program.

The orthodoxy in the Republican Party is so focused and so wrapped into the Governor's personality that the only ideas that can gain ascendancy are the ideas that survive the Governor's personal approval. We have become narrowly committed to a one-man philosophy in the Republican Party.

The lower echelons of his party are prevented from doing an effective job because it either has to wrap into his personality and into his publicity program or else it's not going to become a factor in our state affairs. The governor is a great dramatist, but the facts will demonstrate that he's very short on productivity.

He's running on exactly the same issues today that he ran on in 1966 ... we should have shown more progress than that in the last four years.

I believe that I would have the freedom and the backing of this county to create the imaginative ideas necessary to give Calif. confidence that it can participate, and the people can benefit from the future we create.

Do you think drug laws should be changed?

"I don't favor legalizing marijuana. I think there are very few cases of anyone using marijuana for the first time being brought in on a felony charge. The real problem isn't the user of marijuana, it's the producer and seller of marijuana and other drugs. I feel laws can't be strict enough for them. As far as the producer goes, I think laws have to be made much stricter for manufacturers of pills, who are just as much to blame as the seller of marijuana. There is no doubt that there is a profit motive involved here for the manufacturer."

What do you recommend to solve the farm labor dispute in the Salinas Valley?

"Legislation will be introduced on the State level, although it will be precluded if similar legislation is passed on the Federal level, that will help to eliminate secondary boycotts in agriculture, as they are now outlawed in industry. I feel this is a must.

"I also feel legislation should be passed insuring the worker honest, secret elections, to allow workers to choose what union they want to join, or no union at all. I feel harassment from unions has been used in the Salinas Valley and throughout California."

What about problems on college campuses?

"We passed several campus laws last year, and if these are enforced, they might be enough for the future.

"As far as Angela Davis is concerned, I personally felt she shouldn't have been allowed to teach to begin with."

Do you think there should be a loyalty oath to keep "subversive" teachers off university and state college faculties?

"I don't know. I guess you have to leave it up to the discretion of the Board of Regents and chancellors who to hire. I just don't think anyone who advocates the overthrow of the government should be allowed to teach."

Do you support Governor Reagan's proposal to pay parents directly on a "voucher" system for the education of their children, so then parents could pay either public or private schools?

"The governor has asked for a study of a voucher plan to finance education, and I'd rather wait to see the full report on this before making any comment."

What developments do you see for education in California?

"We've made some changes recently. Now it is possible for a man with business ability to become a school administrator without having to have a teaching credential. Sometimes an efficient businessman will be a better administrator than a long-time teacher.

"Also there's an experiment in vocational education. Studies show that three out of five high school graduates are working at a full-time job within two years of their graduation, and the fourth is working within three years.

How do you stand on Proposition 18? (This would allow a county to use up to 25 percent of its gas taxes for rapid transit and pollution control.)

"I definitely support it. A considerable amount of money is needed for research on smog control, for instance. This measure doesn't require any district to take tax money and use it for rapid transit unless the district so chooses. It would mean that Los Angeles, for example, could use up to 25 percent of its gas tax for rapid transit if people so wished. Of course, in Monterey County there is no need for rapid transit for many years, and may never be.

"I also strongly support Propositions 1, "The Clean Water Bond Law", and Proposition 20, the "Recreation and Fish and Wildlife Enhancement Bond Act." Both of these measures are very important for the environment."

Talcott and Riordan vie for Congress

O'Brien Riordan, Democrat

O'Brien Riordan, a high school Spanish teacher from Santa Cruz County, is the Democratic candidate for Congress from the 12th Congressional District. Born and raised on a dairy farm in Maine, he lives in Aptos with his wife and four children. He is 36 years old.

Mr. Riordan, could you tell us why you think you are qualified to represent the voters of this 12th Congressional District?

Certainly. I think that our founding fathers, when they placed only three restrictions upon this office, in all their wisdom intended that we would have a broad cross-section of citizens representing other citizens in Congress. I don't believe that they intended it to be the bailiwick only of attorneys and wealthy men. At the present time there are 310 attorneys in Congress.

Each year we send other men to Congress from a great variety of backgrounds. Some have had prior public service, others have not. For a number of years I have had to communicate -- which means listening as well as talking -- with young people. I have also worked with members of the community, their parents, on sewer and water projects for instance.

I grew up on a farm, worked my way through San Jose State, graduating as the father of three children. I have served as a postal worker, janitor, attendant in first aid in a hospital. I think I have a pretty good cross-section of experience which permits me to have an understanding of people from all walks of life in the 12th Congressional District, whether they be farmer, factory worker, field worker, business or professional men.

Can you tell us, Mr. Riordan, what are the key issues, as you see them, in this campaign, and what your positions are on these issues?

I started this campaign with certain issues in mind but as I moved out on the campaign trail it became rather obvious that the voters had others in mind.

The number one issue today is that of violence.

I believe there's no place in a democracy for violence. I believe that we ought to have creative representatives in congress, not a representative who just warms a seat. We ought to have a representative in congress who has some staying power and some stature among his colleagues.

Instead of providing massive aid for more hardware for the police, as Mr. Nixon's Omnibus Crime Bill has done, I think that we should provide federal funding for the best of training and salaries for police officers.

The second step would be to provide for the early prosecution of the bombers. I believe we're going to have to give them priority on court calendars, otherwise we're not going to have any courts left.

Then, finally, we must have federal funding to reorganize and unclog the courts. I think that in the case of hardened criminals, what they fear most of all is a swift and fair trial. Look at the case of the bombing at San Francisco State. The people involved are just coming to trial 19 months later. It appears that it might take 19 months more in order to finalize that case. I don't think this is the way that our system of

ROBERT M. EWING

A memorial service was held at St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church this morning for Robert Martin Ewing, 71, who died in a local hospital Monday following an extended illness.

Instead of decorating the church with large floral sprays, Mrs. Dorothy Ewing arranged for friends who attended the services to receive a bouquet of Oak Creek Canyon leaves and small bronze crystal-themums as they left. Mrs. Ewing also took home one of the bouquets, which she felt was in keeping with her husband's love of nature and his unpretentious approach to life.

Mr. Ewing had lived with his wife at 5 Poppy Road for the past three years. He was born March 13, 1899, in Baldwin, Ill. He attended Bradley University at Peoria and later earned an M.A. degree from Columbia University in New York.

He taught journalism at Keuka College, Keuka Park, N.Y., from 1943 to 1945, and then became assistant professor of English at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware, Ohio. Later he moved to Bucknell University at Lewisburg, Pa., from which he retired as professor emeritus in 1967.

He was a member of the Dramatists Guild of America and Kappa Phi Epsilon, honorary journalism society.

Mr. Ewing had many literary achievements to his credit. Among them were "Stray Leaves," a play produced at the Channin Theatre in New York; "Happiness C.O.D.," a motion picture script; an adaptation of Euripides' "The Trojan Women" which was given in summer theaters in the East; and contributions to a journalism textbook, "Modern Journalism."

In addition to his widow, he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Marvin Cole of Berwyn, Ill.; two nephews, William L. Ewing of Crystal Lake, Ill., and William Charles Braden of Alton, Ill., and two nieces, Mrs. Joseph Brewer of Anchorage, Alaska, and Mrs. Nevin Kahle of Sparta, Ill.

MRS. ELLA PICTON

Carmel Valley friends have just learned of the death of Mrs. Ella C. Picton, 75, who lived with her husband, Byron S. Picton, in La Rancheria a few years ago.

Mrs. Picton died early this month in Toledo, Ohio. Her husband, chairman of the board of Picton-Cavanaugh, Inc., a Toledo insurance firm, died a year ago.

Surviving are a son, Dean, of Toledo; a sister, Mrs. Edna Brown of Detroit; four grand-children and three great-grand-children.

Representative Burt Talcott, Republican

Congressman Burt L. Talcott of Salinas was unopposed for the Republican nomination in the June primary. He was first elected to Congress in 1962 and is now seeking his fifth term.

Mr. Talcott, what are the key issues in this campaign?

In the total campaign there are a number of issues. The same issues that are important nationwide are important to people in Carmel and Carmel Valley: the war in Vietnam, inflation, unemployment, education, pollution. These issues concern everybody.

The issues in my campaign are simply my record: have I done a creditable job or have I not done a creditable job?

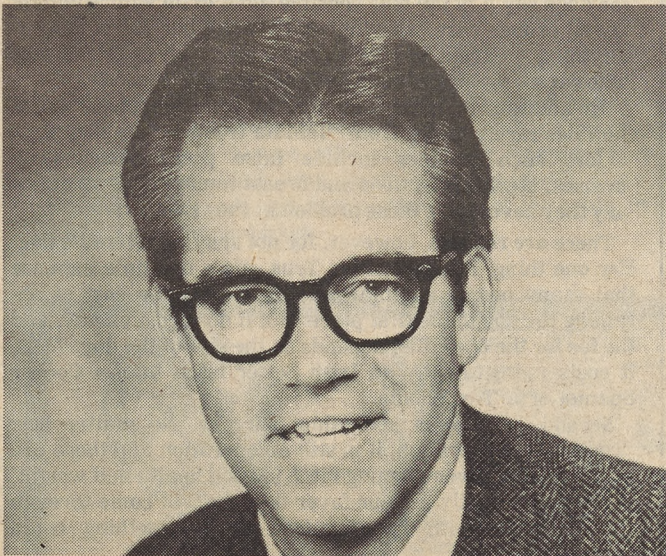

Which issues have you found the voters to be most concerned about?

I haven't had much time to campaign; I've only been campaigning the last eight or nine days -- Congress has been in session until now and I have a difficult time in getting home when the Congress is in session.

The people have been concerned with the war in Vietnam and how we're winding it down.

They're concerned about the problems of our environment -- preserving our natural resources, what we're doing about pollution, ecology.

They're concerned about inflation, the increasing cost of justice was intended to run.

Number two on the mind of an overwhelming number of voters that I have encountered is welfare. I support the president's family assistance program, which would provide a subsistence level for poverty stricken people. It would also slow down the migration of rural population to the cities. This rural migration only compounds urban problems. I also would like to suggest that we have some reform. What I have in mind is moving the elderly, disabled and blind from the stigma of welfare and placing them under social security.

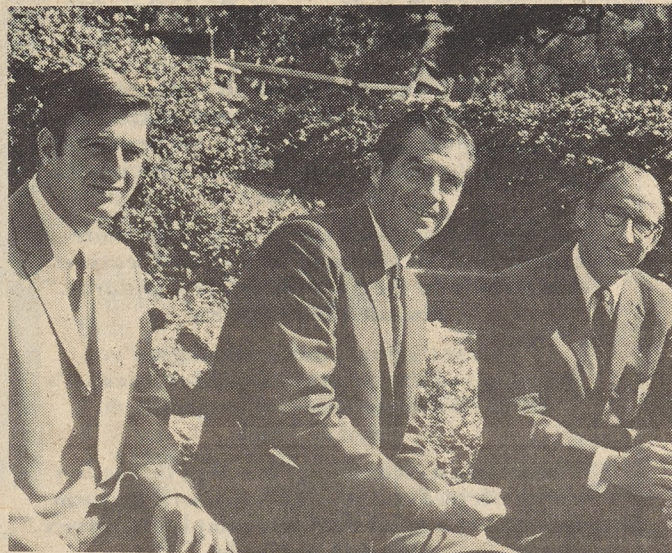

Has the economy, particularly our economy here in Monterey County, been a source of concern on the part of the voters also?

Only in a very generalized way. I believe that the economy isn't biting the individual enough so that it would have a political effect.

The number three issue, after violence and welfare, is the environment. I find that the concern for preserving our environment, which my opponent has referred to as a "fad", is something that cuts across party lines and affects the working man. He may be a fisherman, sportsman or hunter, on the weekends, and is just as concerned as a college professor or college student.

I would have voted against the timber supply bill.

I think the SST is one of the most incredible boondoggles that's ever been pushed on the American people. Polls indicate that the great majority of American people do not favor the SST and yet we get it shoved down our throats in congress.

living.

They're concerned about the priorities of the federal government.

Would you say that you stand pretty much with the Nixon Administration on these key issues?

No, I have never tried to evaluate whether I'm with or not with the administration or any administration. I try to represent the people in my district. Sometimes this coincides I think with what the administration is trying to do and sometimes it doesn't.

So, on the war in Vietnam I think a large majority of the people are confident that the President has been sincere in his plan for peace and that his plan has been working.

I think the people are grateful that the number of killings by combat in Vietnam has been reduced from some 240, which it was two years ago, down to 40 last week. This is 40 too many; we wish it could be reduced to zero tonight, but I think that most people are grateful for this accomplishment. They're grateful for the withdrawal of troops, the reduction of the killing of American boys as well as South Vietnamese and North Vietnamese.

In this respect I do support the president; I think we ought to support the president, particularly when his plan is working and there is no other plan, no other proposal that's been as good. There doesn't seem to be any realistic alternative.

I support the president on postal reform; I support the president on trying to get some reforms of the welfare system; reform of the court system; to try to get some stronger laws to deal with the organized crime. There are many places where I could support the president.

I have not supported him on his request for foreign aid; I have not supported him on his proposal to continue President Kennedy and President Johnson's SST program, supersonic transport. So I pick and choose the issues on which I support or do not support the administration.

Your opponent said that you voted for the SST program; is this a distortion?

My opponent is either misinformed or just maliciously misrepresenting my vote. I not only voted against the SST but I spoke against the appropriation for it this year, which was the vote.

I can't analyze his mind to determine whether he's ignorant or just purposely misrepresenting my voting record.

To the voters of Monterey County, particularly in Carmel and Carmel Valley, the preservation of our environment is an important local issue. Can you tell us why you feel you have been an effective voice for us in Congress on these issues?

I think that people who know me and have known me for some time know a little bit about my record for preserving our national resources and as a conservationist.

I challenge anybody to show a better record for conservation in Monterey County than mine. It started a long time ago when I was on the Parks and Recreation Commission in Salinas. I can point to some beautiful boulevard trees that some people wanted to remove that are still there because I spoke up to preserve a single tree.

I served on the Monterey County Board of Supervisors for eight years before I went to the Congress and I think that we can be very proud of the record of the Board at that time.

We had the first litter control officer in the U.S.

We developed agricultural zoning and scenic highways and scenic roads and all kinds of things to preserve our area and the natural resources of our area.

We developed monitoring systems for monitoring the air pollution 15 years ago when it was tough.

We fought the billboards when it was tough. It's easy to fight these things now because everybody is so excited about the ecology; but when it was tough we didn't have so many friends and it wasn't so popular.

The Ventana Wilderness was the first act of Congress that was signed into law in the 91st Congress. The Ventana Wilderness was my bill and in our district.

I proposed marine sanctuaries all along our coast long before we had the gas spill at Santa Barbara. Sen. Cranston introduced the same bill; he got a lot of publicity on his, but he used the language of my bill. He came to my office to get the language for his bill.

I think that my efforts were largely responsible for getting a number of federal grants to improve the sewage and water supply system here in our area which do contribute to improving the environment.

Years ago, "nice" people didn't keep female dogs as pets, and only in professional dog breeding circles or among hunters did one find them. Females were considered "nasty" because—well, because they were females!

Female dogs were despised because twice a year, for about a week, they responded to Nature's urging and sought mates. That they were gentle and loving and obedient and easy to train for 50 weeks of the year didn't matter; those two weeks of sexuality spoiled it for them.

Today, many families avoid females as pets because they don't really understand sexual behavior in the dog and because they're afraid of having to cope with a female's "seasons."

One of the answers to the problem is, of course, to have a female who isn't wanted for breeding purposes spayed. Spaying is the surgical removal of the reproductive organs; once done, the operation ends forever the problems of heat periods and unwanted puppies and courting males baying beneath your windows.

Advocates of spaying as a practical birth control method for dogs say it is the only sensible thing to do with a female. Given proper care, spaying won't make her fat or lazy or anything—except unable to reproduce. Fat dogs are dogs who eat too much and don't exercise enough. Period.

In addition to not being able to have puppies, spayed females rarely suffer from "female troubles" as they grow older; such troubles include false pregnancies, cystic ovaries, uterine infections and breast tumors. But we did not say they never have these problems; they rarely do.

There are reasons, however, for not spaying a female dog. For one thing, it's expensive. True, it's a one-time expense that many people automatically tack onto the cost of obtaining the dog in the first place. But it does cost money, and the fee for the operation depends on the size of the dog. Thus, it costs more to spay an Irish Setter bitch than a Cocker Spaniel or a Toy Poodle.

Second, spaying is abdominal surgery. No matter how "routine" an operation, it is still an operation and there are always risks. Given a young bitch in good health and weight, the odds are vastly in your favor that she will come through the operation with flying colors. But—something could happen.

The third argument against spaying is that it is irrevocable. You can't "unspay" a dog. Once spayed, your dog will never be able to have puppies; and she will be barred from the showing if she is a purebred.

One last point is that you may discover, if you wait to spay your female puppy, that taking proper care of her while she is in heat isn't all that much trouble.

What then is this "season" or "heat" your female will enter, and what does it entail?

At about the age of nine months—earlier for smaller dogs—female dogs reach sexual maturity. Like female horses, cows, monkeys and humans, sexually mature female dogs have a set reproductive cycle. In dogs, this cycle occurs twice a year, roughly every six months.

The average heat period lasts 20 or 21 days and only during the second week of this three-week period are females receptive to advances from males. Professional dog breeders usually mate their dogs on the 10th and 12th day of their season, at a point when the female is willing to accept the attentions of the male.

The first part of heat is characterized by swelling of the external genitalia—the vulva—and possibly by a change in temperament. Some females seem nervous or upset; some eat more avidly; others refuse food. Some are restless, others calm. It varies greatly from female to female.

About five days after the genitals swell you may notice signs of a bloody vaginal discharge. We say "may" because many bitches are so fastidious that their owners never notice so much as a spot. It is entirely natural for the bitch to lick herself clean.

The other sign that your bitch is in heat may be a pack of unruly male dogs hanging around your home. Males know a female is in season through their sense of smell; you can't smell anything different about the dog—but they can!

If you are willing to do three things, you can live for years with an "entire" (unspayed) bitch and never have an unwanted puppy.

First: you must never let the bitch out alone while she is in season, even in a fenced yard. She may be driven by her instinct to try to jump a fence she never contemplated before. She cannot be permitted to run loose; she must be walked only on leash.

Second: provide a temporary bed for her using old sheets. You may want to confine her in the kitchen or family room where the floors are uncarpeted. Provide a clean sheet as her bedding. If it becomes stained during the night, simply drop it into the washing machine with a good measure of soap and bleach and give her the spare sheet in the meantime.

Third: experiment with the chlorophyll tablet marketed in pet shops under the name "No-Mate." It is completely harmless and does nothing more than deodorize the dog. But that deodorant action is so effective that it often fools the neighborhood males and thereby prevents that unwanted dog pack outside your door. We have walked bitches in full heat past large, mature males who never knew her "condition" because of the "No-Mate."

If you find, after one heat, that it's too difficult to safeguard your bitch for a few weeks of the year, you can always have her spayed. But you may want to try getting through one season before you make the final decision.

Dear Season Opens:
Fear fill the forest shade,
Death walks the Forest glade,
Thru thorny thicket runs,
Stags sense the guns.

That Evening:
Hunters who shoot from cars,
Tell their tall tales at bars,
"I shot a deer!"
Bring us more Beer,"
Killers for killing's sake
Not for their need,
Hunters who havoc make
Only for greed!

All Night:
On paths the hunters came
Low licks the Tongue of Flame,
Symbol of Nature's ire
Slow smokes the surly fire,
Hear the hiss breezes raise,
Forests burst into blaze!
Mighty Hunters, this your pride?
Fire sweeps the mountain side!

STUDENTS IN David E. Spence's Monterey Peninsula College course on Hotel, Motor Hotel, Restaurant and Institutional Management, gathered last week at Quail Lodge and the Carmel Valley Golf & Country Club. They were shown the design and operation of Quail Lodge to point out the factors which earned the lodge AAA's highest rating, "Outstanding". Mrs. Quila Conway, Convention Coordinator for Quail Lodge, conducted the tour and briefed the students on the operation of both the lodge and the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club. Shown inspecting the club's kitchen, are from left, David Spence, MPC student Sue Baumgardner of Carmel Valley, Club chef Jimmie Young, Quila Conway, Pantry Chef Duane and on the other side of the table, MPC student Lee Baumgarten.

TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir,

Would you kindly publish the following letter in your opinion column?

The Jr. High Youth Fellowship of the Carmel Valley Community Chapel is saving C.C.A. Points with hope for securing enough money in their treasury to provide for two special events.

1.) a weekend in Yosemite in the snow.

2.) a weekend in Los Angeles. This would be an occasion whereby we hope to share fellowship with another group from that area at their church for dinner and an evening.

-- also tour Universal studios at a time to watch filming

-- also visit Disneyland.

There are approximately 20 fine young American teenagers in this group. Although they are making things to sell at a later date they are also working on several service projects for which there is no compensation except pride in helping others. Good programs are essential to keep intelligent youngsters interested. Good programs cost labor and money. Financial help in this direction insures good citizenry with active youngsters. It's not only their future, but ours.

Save C.C.A. Points and if you like working with enthusiastic teenagers who can keep you young and give you faith in the future, Call Evelyn Rhoades (Mrs. Leonard Rhoades), 659-2071 for any information regarding this group.

Thanks,
EVELYN RHOADES

Dear Editor,

Thank you for printing my letter in the October 21, 1970 Outlook exactly as it was written. A mistake was made on the third line which is my fault for not proof reading more carefully. It should read as follows: 3000 booklets called "Basic Drug Facts" which contain excerpts from "A New Connection" are now being distributed free to the public by the Carmel Unified School District. I hope this error has not confused your readers; I also hope they will accept my apology.

At this time, I would like to mention a small error in the same Outlook. Reverend Frykman was referred to as Doctor; he does not have this title.

Thank you again.

Still Sincere and Concerned,

Since the beginning of the United Nations Children's Fund in 1946, it has received the commendation of every President of the United States as well as political leaders of both parties. It receives the active co-operation of the three major religious faiths including an annual contribution from the Holy See. Unicef also has the support of the major national organizations concerned with child welfare, education, youth activities and the promotion of international understanding. In 1965 Unicef was honored with the most distinguished award of all -- the Nobel Prize for Peace.

In the presentation speech in Oslo it was stated that Unicef, through its work benefiting the children of the world, fulfilled the condition of Nobel's will, the promotion of brotherhood among nations.

An important vote for California schoolchildren is a vote for Wilson Riles in next Tuesday's non-partisan contest for the state's top school post.

Riles is a man of integrity as well as competence. He has taken leave of absence without pay as Deputy Superintendent of Public Instruction to campaign. In contrast, the incumbent stayed on the payroll two years ago while seeking a partisan post.

Riles cares about children. Having served as a member of

PGE LINE FALLS

A Pacific Gas and Electric Company power line on Esquiline Road fell near the home of Mike Watkins at 3:55 a.m. Monday morning, starting a small grass fire where it touched the ground. The fire was quickly extinguished by the Carmel Valley Fire Department. Power in the Robles del Rio area was affected for several hours.

There were no other fires or emergency calls during the week.

THE WINNIE-THE-POOH Auxiliary of the Children's Home Society will hold its annual fund-raising fashion show from 5 to 7 p.m. Sunday at the Rancho Canada Golf Club.

"The Drape and the Grape" will feature women's fashions by Maloa and men's apparel from the Gentlemen's Boutique. There will also be an art exhibit of paintings by Shirley Holt and dancing to the Ace Hill Trio.

The public is invited to attend. Proceeds will benefit the Children's Home Society, the only private adoption and counseling agency in California.

THE COMMUNITY HOSPITAL blood bank has again been certified by the American Association of Blood Banks for another three years. Dr. Osman Hull, pathologist at the hospital, said more donations are needed. The hospital has a family blood plan whereby a donation of a unit of blood by one member of a family insures that the entire family's blood needs, including costs, will be met for one year.

Donors may make arrangements to contribute by calling the hospital laboratory from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The telephone number is 624-5311. Donors should be in good health and between the ages of 18 and 60.

THE MONTEREY PENINSULA MUSEUM OF ART will hold a preview-reception from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday to honor two well-known California artists whose works will be displayed during November. They are Renee Groch of Los Altos Hills, who has won several awards from art museums for her oils, and Anthony Amato, a sculptor who works in marble, alabaster and pink granite.

ALSO ON VIEW at the museum in November will be "Abstract Images," a retrospective of the works of the late Ruth Velissaratos. This includes the celebrated "Lady of Fashion," which was first seen at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in the 1960 Photography in the Fine Arts show. It created quite a stir because it did not fit into any known category, and was subsequently seen in almost fifty other museums and galleries throughout the United States.

The show is a tribute to the memory of an extraordinarily creative artist and one of the founding members of the organization which became the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art. Mrs. Velissaratos lived in Carmel with her husband, realtor Victor Velissaratos, until her death last March.

GLEN MEWHINNEY of the Village Art Center announced this week he is hoping to organize a pottery co-operative which could make use of space in his building on Delfino Place.

"The idea is to have a place where people can bring pottery to be fired, where potters can rent facilities for short or long periods to come in and throw, and where pottery classes can be offered."

Mewhinney said the University of Man, which has 36 people enrolled in a pottery course but no place to meet, has expressed interest in helping to build a kiln and shelves in exchange for use of the facilities.

Anyone interested in participating in a pottery program or cooperative should contact Mewhinney at the Village Art Center.

Mewhinney also plans to start classes in weaving, block printing and drawing. The latter two courses will be taught by Dick Crispo. And before Christmas he expects to again offer a workshop in candle making.

CARMEL VALLEY ARTIST Jean Wilsdon opened a one-woman show of her works this month at the Holbrook-Palmer Park Center in Atherton. The exhibit, which includes both her acrylic constructions and ink wash studies, will continue through Nov. 10.

Mrs. Wilsdon was born in Palo Alto and graduated from Stanford, as did her husband, attorney Richard Wilsdon.

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS of the Monterey Peninsula has announced its strong endorsement of Propositions 1, 9, 14-17 and 18 on the November 3 ballot. This support is based on recent statewide studies and reviews of the subjects in question.

Information on Propositions 1 and 18 is given elsewhere in this issue of the Outlook. Proposition 9 would allow boards of supervisors in non-charter counties, such as Monterey, to provide, with voter approval, for the appointment of a county superintendent of schools. At present, both the County school board and the County superintendent must be elected, and neither is legally subordinate to the other, a situation which has frequently led to bitter conflict in the past.

Propositions 14, 15, 16 and 17 are part of a continuing attempt to rid the State Constitution of statutory detail and obsolete provisions.

GAMES for THINKERS

AUTHORED BY UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

WFF 'N PROOF: The Game of Modern Logic, By Layman Allen. 21-game kit that starts with games that can be mastered by six-year-olds and ends with games that will challenge intelligent adults. Provides practice in abstract thinking and an opportunity to learn some mathematical logic. $8.00

WFF: The Beginner's Game of Modern Logic, By Layman Allen. The first two games of WFF 'N PROOF placed in a separate kit for beginners. Provides practice in constructing and recognizing WFF's. (Well Formed Formulas—expressions that are in mathematical logic, similar to what sentences are in English.) $1.50

WFF 'N PROOF GAMES ARE:

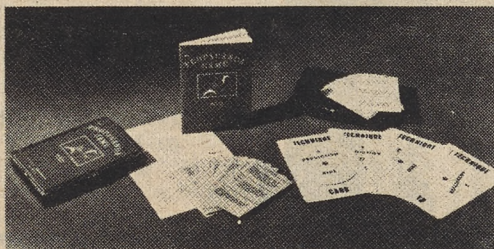

Entertaining—Challenging—Educational! Played by young and old who like to think! A completely new dimension in education. Fun for those who like brain-to-brain combat.

THE REAL NUMBERS GAME

By Layman E. Allen. 5-game kit that prepares beginners for playing EQUATIONS. Equipment comes clipped on a ball-point pen, handy for play anytime that two or three minutes is available. Provides fun and frolic in dealing with real, rational, irrational, integer and natural numbers.

Deluxe $2.00

ON-SETS: The Game of Set Theory, By Allen, Kugel, Owens. 30-game kit that introduces the fundamental concepts of the "new math" by a fresh and stimulating approach. Provides practice in elementary set theory concepts (union, intersection and difference of sets, complement of a set, set-identify, set-inclusion, and the null and universal sets) while encouraging favorable attitudes towards mathematics. $5.00

With ON-SETS, Professor Allen and his two associates have again made a significant contribution in games with a goal. The kit of instructions with 18 dice and 15 cards provided in this 30-game package can instruct the 6-year-old in basics of set theory and still extend challenge to any adult exploring the new math. Be warned in advance that ON-SETS will intrigue at the start and, far from being forgotten after the basic challenges have been explored, will continue to provide enjoyment over a long period. DATA PROCESSING DIGEST

THE PROPAGANDA GAME By Robt. Allen & Lorne Greene. Students learn the techniques professionals use to mold public opinion—Quotation Out of Context, Rationalization, Technical Jargon, The Bandwagon Appeal, Faulty Analogy—Plus 50 others. $6.00

In a democratic society such as ours, it is the role of every citizen to make decisions after evaluating many ideas. It is especially important then that a citizen be able to analyze and distinguish between the emotional aura surrounding the idea and the actual content of the idea. It is to this goal of clear thinking that THE PROPAGANDA GAME addresses itself.

AS I WRITE this column this week to relate the latest schedule of events, both present and future, my mind repeatedly refers to an article in "Cultural Affairs", in the issue on the Congressional Hearings on the Arts and Humanities, written by one of the worlds great choreographers, Agnes de Mille. The importance of her message is great enough to pass along, in part, at least.

"Art is the best therapy. Men all through the ages have known this. Scientists are admitting this now. Art is the best means of education. The church has always known this. Our colleges and civic bodies are learning it. To quote Bernard Shaw, 'Next to torture, art persuades fastest'. The State Department is learning it. Nothing we have sent abroad has done us as much good as our art exhibits and our performers.

"When our artists take the stage, even the most hostile and critical people stop and wonder if a nation that can produce such radiance can be totally hypocritical and predatory. Indeed, there is no field in which so little goes so far, and yet this is the first field to be cut back as superfluous because, there being no profits involved except happiness and general well being, there are no power lobbies.

"Europe has always recognized the value of delight and supported its arts with substantial portions of the national treasuries. This has been said again and again in these hearings, but it can't be said too often.

"We have had roughly between $3.5 and $5 million for 50 states in all the arts, and we are the richest country in the world. But while our Government is prepared to buy a war, or a trip to Mars, or to support one-fifth of the population on charity drawn from the working wages of another fifth, it is not prepared to give more than a pittance for our spiritual and emotional well-being.

"And this notwithstanding that we have among us by far the greatest, most varied, most creative and daring artists in the world, among them certainly the best choreographers, and dancers without match.

"Henry Adams said, 'A teacher cannot know how far his influence will extend ... a teacher affects eternity.' William James added, 'Where quality is the thing sought after, the thing of supreme quality is cheap whatever the price one has to pay for it.'

"We take this for granted in all other fields. Why not in human well-being and spiritual growth? What better investment can a country make than in the talents of its truly gifted?

"What is our image going to be? What footsteps do we leave behind? The unchanging marks on a dead satellite? My Lai?"

WITH THIS THOUGHT, I leave this quotation of Agnes de Mille for you to read and digest and think upon as I have done this past weekend.

What is our image and what do we of Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula and Sunset Cultural Center wish to be remembered for in the years to come?

I feel it is time to re-evaluate our goals, determine the approach that will best accomplish these goals for the eventual greatest benefit for all, and especially our gifted, and our young, for they and only they can set the cultural pace for future generations.

Next week, I should like to explore this cultural dilemma in America that is affecting all facets of the arts and in fact, will actually determine the direction future programming of the arts will take. If our national government does not support the arts to a greater extent, we may find many of our great troupes extinct, for total lack of funds to even exist as an organization.

OUR NEXT OFFERING at Sunset will be presented by the Carmel Chamber Music Society presenting our own Carmel greats, the Mazzeos, in an evening of 20th Century music for violin, clarinet and piano, by the Krachmal-Nick-Mazzeo Recital. The Mazzeos, known more familiarly as Rosario & Katy-Claire, are two of the most delightful and talented persons I know and we are fortunate to have them living on the Peninsula, enriching our lives with their knowledge, enthusiasm and great gift for music.

This is truly a "Must not Miss" concert. November 8th, Sunday, 8:30 p.m. at Sunset Theater, 8th and San Carlos.

WE ARE WINDING UP our Barati Lecture Series on the 3rd of November. If you miss this Tuesday evening, try to set the final Tuesday evening aside, for I feel you will find inspiration and knowledge awaiting you. Call 624-3996 for further information for our coming events.

May I borrow one more brief quote as I bring this week's message to a close:

"Great art is great because it carries something so native and true to the human spirit that not even knowledge of how it is done can kill the magic ...", said Robert Shaw, to whom I shall refer in next week's column.

So long for now.

Carmel Valley Inn to host Nitecap Radio show

Everyone is welcome, free of charge, to attend the Nitecap radio show on Friday, November 6 -- broadcast live from the Carmel Valley Inn, over radio KSL (Salt Lake City) and KVOO (Tulsa) beginning at 10:00 p.m. and continuing until 1:00 a.m.

Nitecap members from all parts of the United States and Canada will arrive for the three day event which includes not only the broadcast, but the following agenda:

Friday - Nov. 6th: Registration from 2:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m.; 7:00 p.m. - buffet dinner; 10:00 p.m. until 1:00 a.m. - radio show.

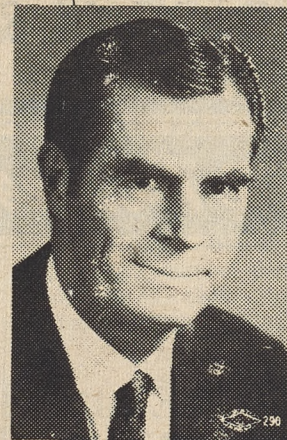

Saturday - Nov. 7th: 8:00 a.m. - breakfast; 12:30 p.m. - luncheon - with guest speaker; 3:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. - Tour of Monterey Peninsula; 8:00 p.m. - Banquet - honored guests.

Sunday - Nov. 8th: 9:00 a.m. - breakfast and aloha.
The luncheon Saturday will be highlighted when guest speaker Victor Cizancas, Chief of Police in Menlo Park, enumerates on the various ways of self protection. The banquet that evening will have as honored guests Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Watson and Sam Salerno.

Herb Jepko, founder and president of the NIA and its some two hundred service organizations (which are comprised of many of the 200,000 NIA members) will arrive with his wife, Pat - and Frankie "Crusher" Nolan. Nolan is the former middleweight wrestling champion of the world, and is now vice president of the NIA.

'Private Lives' comes to Studio Theatre

Noel Coward's "Private Lives" opens November 6 at the Studio Theatre-Restaurant for a run of six weekends. Subtitled "an intimate comedy" by its distinguished author, "Private Lives" was brought back to Broadway last season by David Merrick with Tammy Grimes and Brian Bedford in the leads to widespread critical acclaim.

The play opens with one of the greatest coincidences in dramatic history: Amanda and Elyot, previously married to each other, are starting honeymoons with new spouses on the same night, at the same hotel, in rooms with adjoining terraces. Reunited in this remarkable fashion, they decide they are still in love and the plot lifts off from there.

It takes a Noel Coward to carry off this frothy situation with spice, wit and urbanity, but successes like "Hay Fever", "Blithe Spirit" and "Design for Living" bear witness to his genius for turning a tenuous story line and implausible characters into comic masterpieces.

In the original London production, Coward himself played Elyot with Gertrude Lawrence as Amanda and none other than Laurence Olivier as the other man. A revival saw Tallulah Bankhead as Amanda.

Noel Coward, now 70 and recently knighted, made his mark early. By the time he was 25, six of his plays and three of his revues had been presented in London's West End and twenty acting roles were behind him. After "Private Lives" came the serious historical play "Cavalcade" which earned him new distinction.

After its November 6 opening, "Private Lives," under the direction of Bill Asp, will play Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights at the Studio to mid-December.

You wouldn't like brownouts or blackouts. Nor would we.

You have the highest degree of security against them here. That's because we have built our facilities well ahead of the growing needs of our customers. And we're investing $400 million this year to assure adequate and dependable service as energy requirements continue to grow.

We have served all-time peak demands on our electric system this summer with adequate capacity in reserve for emergencies. Our natural gas system is able to serve customer demands on the coldest day.

Clean gas and electric energy are basic necessities in home and industry. Our job is to be sure you can rely on their availability. PG&E

For a company known for continuity of service, Carmel Glass Company has been going through a lot of changes lately.

The business, established in 1953 in Carmel as Carmel Color and Glass, relocated in Carmel Rancho Shopping Center in 1959. The present name survives from an interim move within the village.

The business was run jointly by Robert Connell and Tony Vasconcellos from the date of establishment until July 1 this year, when Tony sold his interest to Bob.

Tony and his wife, Kay, are celebrating retirement

decision on dam site

A spokesman for the California-American Water Company in Los Angeles said yesterday the company is on the verge of announcing what location it considers most promising for a new dam on the upper Carmel River.

He said that W.L. Hays, president of the water company, is in Philadelphia now discussing engineering and economic data with officials of the parent corporation, the American Water Works Company.

He said the company does not yet have all the engineering information it needs to make a decision, but he was hopeful that an announcement would be forthcoming by sometime next week.

Fabulous Halloween carnival Friday eve

The entire Valley is invited to take part in "the Great Pumpkin Party" on Halloween Eve sponsored by the Board of the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center. Co-chairmen Mrs. Jon Englund and Mrs. Jim Ijams have set the "witching hours" from 5-8 on Friday at the Community Center. There will be plenty of parking space for autos (or brooms) on the school grounds or behind the Center in the Swimming Pool area.

Carnival-goers will be greeted with the "haunting aromas" of hot dogs, hot apple cider, pop corn balls, cokes, coffee and many other surprises so that they may plan a Spooky Supper.

One of Charlie Brown's favorite suggestions to Lucy, "Let's get the gang together and sing Pumpkin Carols" was taken seriously by Tularcitos music director, John Farr, who has been rehearsing the Tularcitos Choir in some be-witching arrangements which they will present at 6:30.

Many Valley organizations are donating their time to construct and staff booths for the affair with ALL proceeds going to the Community Center. Among the booths will be The Wheel of Fortune by the Carmel Valley Lions; Darts by the C.V. Lionettes; Spider Grotto Fish Pond by the Barracuda Swimming and Diving Teams; Tandra Camp Fire Girls will man Pin the Tail on the Cat; Flag Football Parents will have good old fashioned Apple Bobbing; and Mrs. Larry Busick's Camp Fire Girls will be in charge of Bingo. There will be booths by the Kiwanis, the Boy Scouts, the 4-H Club, a Spook House, a Cake Walk, and the Cabrillo Doberman Pinscher Club will have a Balloon Concession.

Script tables will be conveniently located about the grounds selling TEN CENT TICKETS which will admit one to all games. The food will be a nominal fee.

Awards in four categories will be made at 7:00 p.m. in the Pumpkin Carving Contest. Everyone is invited to enter their 1970 jack-o-lantern. Prizes will be awarded in the Pre-School through Second Grade division; the Third, Fourth and Fifth Grade Division; Middle School 6-8; and 9th grade up with adults welcome to enter. The Costume Parade is of course the highlight of any Halloween celebration. Prizes will be awarded following a Grand March scheduled between 7:30 and 8:00 p.m. So dust off your funniest, your prettiest or ... your "goriest" costume and join the fun on Friday night at the Carmel Valley Community Youth Center Halloween Carnival.

BEAUTIFICATION PROJECTS sometimes start off being anything but. This mass of tires wired together on the bank of the Carmel River on the Wolter's property isn't anybody's idea of scenic grandeur, right now. Working in conjunction with county officials, Luis and Russell Wolter are in the process of planting willows in the bottom 10 rows of tires.

When the River rises this winter, it will cover the tires with silt. In two or three years the bank should be completely covered by "natural growth" and the tires will be but a memory. If the Board of Supervisors passes a Carmel River ordinance next week, no alteration of any kind will be allowed along the banks of the river without a special permit.

LEGAL NOTICE NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED ORDINANCE FOR THE CARMEL RIVER

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey has set Wednesday, the 4th day of November, 1970, at the hour of 11:00 a.m. in the Chambers of said Board Courthouse, Salinas, California, as the time and place for a public hearing on a proposed Ordinance prohibiting interference with, or construction or excavation within, the Carmel River or the Banks of any Levee Thereof, a copy of which Ordinance is attached hereto and marked Exhibit "A".

DATED: October 20, 1970

EMMET G. McMENAMIN,
Clerk of the said Board of Supervisors
EXHIBIT "A"

ORDINANCE NO.

AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING INTERFERENCE WITH, OR CONSTRUCTION OR EXCAVATION WITHIN, THE CARMEL RIVER OR THE BANKS OR ANY LEVEE THEREOF.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MONTEREY DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS

(a) Carmel River: Carmel River as used in this ordinance, means that portion of the Carmel River lying between San Clemente Dam and the Pacific Ocean; that portion of the Las Gazas Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 400 feet above sea level; that portion of Robinson Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 200 feet above sea level; that portion of Tularcitos Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 1200 feet above sea level; that portion of Hitchcock Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 600 feet above sea level, and that portion of Potrero Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 100 feet above sea level.

(b) Structure: Structure, as used in this ordinance, is defined as any wall, retaining wall, crib wall, bulkhead, dwelling, business structure, garage, barn, outbuilding, trench, pipe, pole, conduit, fence, wire or anything made or constructed which has its foundation or means of support upon, under or within the surface of the earth.

(c) Rubbish: Rubbish, as used in this ordinance, is defined as any substance which is not readily soluble in water or, if soluble, is contaminated chemically or organically, except chemicals or organisms occurring naturally.

(d) Levee: Levee, as used in this ordinance, is defined as an elongated mound of dirt or earth paralleling and adjacent to the outer edges of the Carmel River.

(e) Bank: Bank of the river, as used in this ordinance, is defined as the sloping sides of the river course and extends to the top of such slope. Whenever the tops of the slopes on opposite sides of the river vary in elevation more than five (5) feet, the top of the slope having the greater elevation shall be deemed to be at an elevation equal to five (5) feet above the highest point on the opposite slope. Each bank of the river shall include the bottom of the river and shall extend to the centerline of river.

(f) Bank of the River in mountain country: In mountain country or other areas where it is difficult to distinguish between the sloping parts of a bank and the surrounding country, that is, where the surrounding country is an extension of the banks of the river, the banks of the river, as used in this ordinance, are defined as a strip of land lying parallel to and adjoining the thread of the river, and extending on each side of said thread a distance of fifty (50) feet, measured horizontally and at right angles to the course of such thread.

(g) Centerline: Centerline of the river, as used in this ordinance, is defined as a line within, and along the length of, the river at a distance from the top of the slopes equal to one half (1/2) the distance between the tops of the slopes of a bank of the river.

(h) Person, firm or corporation shall include public agency.

SECTION 2.

The Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey hereby declares and finds that it is necessary to keep the Carmel River free from obstacles and materials which tend to prevent, change or retard the flow of water in said river in order to promote and protect the public health, safety, comfort, convenience, and the general welfare of those residing in Carmel Valley.

SECTION 3. PROHIBITIONS.

It shall be unlawful after the effective date of this ordinance for any person, firm or corporation to do, or cause to be done, any of the following without having first secured a permit from the Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey.

(a) Construct, place or maintain any structure within the banks of the Carmel River or upon any levee thereof.

(b) Excavate upon or within the banks of the Carmel River, or any levee thereof.

(c) Deposit rubbish upon a levee, or upon or within the banks of the Carmel River; or discharge waters carrying silt or other forms of suspended rubbish.

(d) Construct or place any outlet for discharging drainage waters upon or within the banks of the Carmel River.

(e) Plant any form of flora upon or within the banks of the Carmel River or any levee thereof, other than grasses, annual crops or willows upon the banks or levees to prevent erosion.

(f) Construct or place any structure closer than fifteen (15) feet to the top of the bank of the Carmel River or any levee thereof.

Provided however, no act hereinabove described shall be unlawful if done during an emergency caused by flood, either present or threatened, and if a permit for such act is immediately thereafter applied for, and further that if a permit for said act is not secured, the person so acting shall thereafter forthwith remove any such structure or outlet, fill and compact any such excavation and restore the banks and levees of the Carmel River to the state they would have been but for the act so done in an emergency.

SECTION 4. APPLICATION FOR PERMIT.

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation desiring a permit to do any of the acts for which a permit is required pursuant to this ordinance, shall make application for such permit to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey. This application shall specify:

1. Action intended.
2. Applicant's name, address and telephone number.
3. Date of application.
4. Location of proposed work.
5. Name of owner of property.
6. Name of the contractor who will do the work if known.
7. A drawing or plan clearly describing any proposed structure, and the materials and type of construction to be employed, which shall show a cross section, plan and profile of said proposed structure.

8. A drawing or plan clearly describing any area or removal of any sand, gravel, or material of any kind.

9. A description and plot plan of existing structures upon the property of the owner near the proposed structure or area of work.

10. The time required for completion shown in calendar days.

SECTION 5. INVESTIGATION AND REPORT.

Upon receipt of such application for a permit the Board of Supervisors shall, within fifteen (15) days, refer said application to one or more officers or employees of the County of Monterey, or of the Monterey County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, with directions to make such investigations as said officer or employee deems necessary to determine whether or not the proposed work or activities intended will contaminate the river water, impede, restrict, retard, change the direction of the flow of water, catch or collect debris carried by such water, is located where natural flow of the storm or flood waters will carry any intended structure or any part thereof downstream, or will, in the opinion of said officer or employee, damage, weaken, erode, or reduce the effectiveness of the banks to withhold storm or flood waters. In order to make said investigation, said officer or employee may return said application or improvement plans to the applicant for such additional information, structural analysis, or soil tests; as may be required to complete his investigation. Said officer or employee shall, within thirty (30) days after the application is referred to him, report on his investigations and make a recommendation to the Board as to the issuance of a permit and his recommendation as to conditions should a permit be granted.

SECTION 6. HEARING ON APPLICATION.

(a) Within fifteen (15) days after receiving said report the Board of Supervisors shall set said application for hearing within thirty (30) days thereafter. The Clerk of said Board shall give written notice by United States mail to the applicant of the time, date and place of hearing.

(b) At the hearing it shall be incumbent upon the applicant to show to the satisfaction of the Board of Supervisors that denial of a permit or the attaching of the conditions recommended will cause undue hardship on the applicant, and prevent him from a reasonable use of the property, and that the structure or activity so proposed will not contaminate the river water, will not impede, restrict, retard, or change the direction of the flow of water in the river; will not catch debris carried by such water; is not placed where the natural flow of the storm and flood waters will carry the structures or any part thereof downstream; and will not damage, weaken, erode, or reduce the effectiveness of the banks to withhold storm and flood water.

(c) If the Board of Supervisors determines that the permit should be issued, it shall issue the same and may set forth such conditions thereto as in its judgment are necessary to carry out the objectives of this ordinance.

SECTION 7. PERFORMANCE OF PERMITTED WORK.

(a) The permit, when issued, shall constitute authority for the applicant to proceed according to the conditions, if any, of the permit.

(b) All work for which a permit is required shall be subject to such administrative regulation as may be necessary to insure complete inspection.

(c) If the work is not done in accordance with the terms of the permit then the permittee shall be considered to have violated the terms of this ordinance.

SECTION 8. PENALTY.

Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, or failing to satisfy the terms of a permit issued, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Hearing on river ordinance to be held next Wednesday

The Monterey County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing on an ordinance to protect the Carmel River on Wednesday, Nov. 4, at 11 a.m. at Salinas.

The ordinance, drafted by Supervisor Willard Branson, would make it illegal to build, excavate, dump or plant anything other than grass, willows or annual crops along the banks of the river without a special permit from the Board of Supervisors.

The restricted area would include the river between San Clemente Dam and the Pacific Ocean, and portions of Las Gazas, Tularcitos, Hitchcock and Potrero Creeks.

The only exception would be emergency action taken because of a real or threatened flood, provided that a permit is applied for immediately afterwards.

The ordinance under consideration was redrafted following a public meeting on the issue held at the Carmel Valley Community Center in late August. The complete text of the ordinance appears as a legal notice in this edition of the Outlook.

Organ Concert at Village Chapel this Sunday evening

A well-known professional organist, Thomas Hazleton, will give a varied organ recital Sunday evening at 8 p.m. at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel. Among the famous composers who will be included in his program are J.S. Bach, Richard Purvis and G.F. Handel.

The organist is provided by the Rodgers Organ Company whose organ was recently installed in the Carmel Valley Community Chapel on Paso Hondo Road.

Rev. Don Johnson stated that it is very seldom that an organ of this fine type is installed in a small chapel and together with the chimes provides an eloquent and impressive church music. There will be a short service of dedication. This beautiful instrument of worship was made possible through the untiring efforts of Mrs. James Ziegler, for several years chairman of the music committee. A substantial gift from her mother Mrs. Marie Nast Wherry of Cincinnati, together with a series of nine concerts Mrs. Ziegler and Mrs. Seung Park arranged for the Chapel made possible this fine organ.

Among the well-known artists who performed for these benefits were: Mrs. Norma Jean Hodges of Carmel, Ned Chapman, pianist of New York City and Mr. and Mrs. Seung Paik Park of Monterey.

Mr. Hazleton's recital program will be as follows: Trumpet Voluntary - Henry Purcell, Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring - J.S. Bach, Toccata and Fugue in D Minor - J.S. Bach, Largo - G.F. Handel, Piece Heroique - Cesar Franck, Prelude & Canzona - Louis Vierne, Carillon - Leo Sowerby, Amen Finale - Marcel Dupre, Of Moor and Fen - Richard Purvis, Fanfare - Richard Purvis.

The public is invited to attend this recital; refreshments will be served by the choir and music committee.

"GIRL BEFORE THE GATE" is the title of this painting by Valley artist Barbara Johnson, which will be awarded on Oct. 31 to someone who has contributed to the "Invest in Beauty" fund-raising drive sponsored by the Village Committee of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce. Tickets are on sale at all Village stores to raise money for trees and shrubs, sidewalks and other improvements in the Village. Several paintings and other works of art have been donated for the drive, and all are on display at the Carmel Valley branch of the Bank of America. Winners will be announced at 3 p.m. Oct. 31 at the Village Gallery on Delfino Place.

The Rhyming Philosopher HELPUFULLNESS

Sure, the world is full of people, big and small,
Fair and ugly, fat and skinny, short and tall,
But if hardship, hurt and sorrow
Make you fear to face tomorrow,
Can you name a friend to count on at your call?
There are many who will greet you with a smile,
And there's some who make your efforts seem
worthwhile,
But when trouble finds you lacking
Just the right amount of backing,
Tell me, who've you got to help you up in style?
Though your relatives are numerous or few,
Counting cousins, aunts, and maybe brothers, too,
Have you noticed they act funny
When you try to borrow money,
Then they disappear or wave a toodle-oo!
If you really have a friend, you're all too rare,
For to be a friend is something few will dare;
An acquaintance, to be candid,
Can't be summoned when you're stranded,
And so when you're cold and hungry, who will care?
If you want to be a friend, search out a need,
Or discover some poor neighbor you can feed;
Give with love and understanding
Minus preaching, reprimanding,
Then you'll truly be a friend in word and deed.

Environmental health starts at home...

Students spark interest in Carmel High

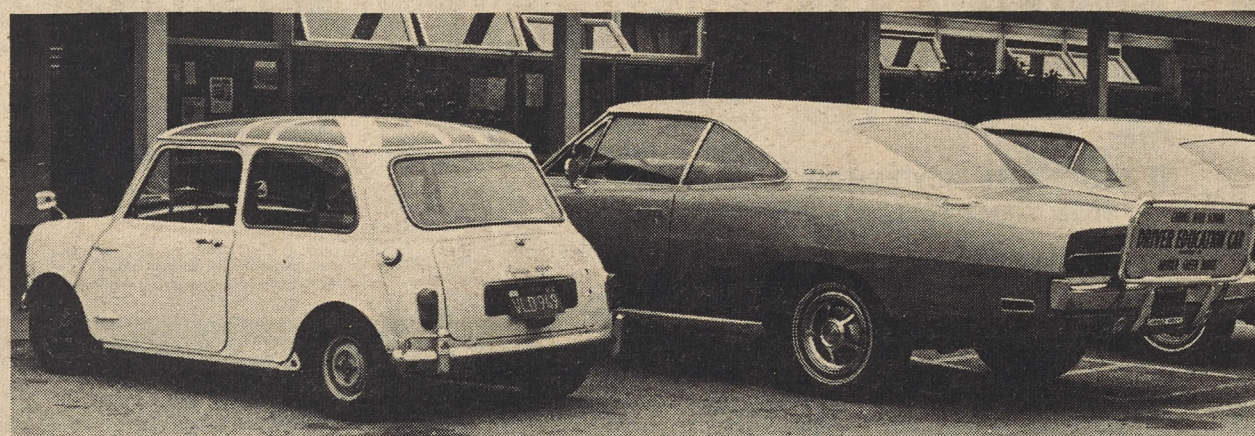

JUNK...TRASH...by any name the wooded gully behind Carmel High School is a mess. Ted Weller kicks aside cans, trimmings, bricks and debris as he walks down the hill. Much of the dumping is done by Carmel residents, and some labels of toxic insecticides found around here were for products the school district has never used. The area is almost impossible to police and, obviously, difficult to clean up.

STUDENTS FORAGING behind Carmel High School came across two dozen large metal boxes, some still partly wrapped in corrugated cartons, that have apparently been abandoned in a ravine behind the school. The cases contain some sort of electrical equipment, but their main use to date has been as benches for students who happen to wander into the area. Here Christi Foster looks over while Ted Weller, partially hidden by the tree at left, collected still another can for the aluminum collection pile.

BIGGER IS NOT ALWAYS BEST contend students at Carmel High School, who would like to see a four or six cylinder car, possibly like the small Austin at left, substituted for high-powered eight cylinder American cars in the driver education program. Even a small Detroit model, they argue, would cause somewhat less air pollution and would be less expensive for the school district to operate. The superintendent's office and the school are checking out the suggestion.

By PAT GRIFFITH

Students who have been checking the environmental health of Carmel High School found out last week that they're not alone in their intense concern about pollution and ecology. Superintendent of Schools Harris Taylor, Business Manager Walter Hinton and scores of classified employees working in various schools have quietly taken several steps in the last several months to eliminate environmental hazards.

"For instance, we no longer burn anything at all in the school district," Taylor said. "We stopped that last May, partly as the result of letters from students at Middle School who were concerned about the use of incinerators, and partly because of our own concern about the atmosphere."

"We're probably one of the few public agencies to do this, and we've done it voluntarily."

Taylor said the district has always been concerned about using potentially dangerous insecticides, fertilizers or cleaners, and has a thick file of correspondence with the Monterey County Health Department asking for advice and specific suggestions on what to use.

"And we've talked about mulching, or having a compost heap, with a man from the Mosquito Abatement District," Taylor continued. "He said that would create so many flies that unless the school went ahead and sprayed, the youngsters would have to learn to live with flies everywhere."

OIL DUMPED

Hinton said he found out that old oil from school buses was

A BLACKENED SLOPE behind the crowded, totally inadequate bus yard at the high school marks where oil drained from school busses has been discarded for several years. Business manager Walter Hinton stopped this procedure as soon as he was told about it by students, but so far the district has not found any good use for the old oil.

being dumped down a slope behind the high school about three weeks ago, and ordered the practice discontinued immediately.

He said the district is now trying to find some use for the old oil, which is being stored temporarily in barrels awaiting disposal.

"Maybe this could be useful somewhere," Hinton said. "We're going to find out. Of course labor costs come into this too, when it comes to storing and transporting it. There are many things we have to take into consideration."

Several students in the high school humanities class surveyed their campus recently in an attempt to find out how the overall environment was faring. One of those who decided to pursue the study was Doug McCall, who also happens to be the student representative on the Carmel School Board.

McCall's informal report to board members at the last meeting included recommendations that the district use a non-toxic fertilizer on the athletic field, save cuttings and grass trimmings for a compost heap, and substitute small four or six cylinder cars for eight cylinder models in the driver education program. All these suggestions are under consideration now.

"We're happy to review our procedures with students, and if they can show us a better way to do something, we'll be glad to consider it," Taylor said last week.

"This is not a one-time effort. I'm sure we'll find better processes and procedures as we go along, and there will be a variety of new concerns in the future.

"I think this is one area in which everyone can work well together."

IN THE AGE OF ECOLOGY, danger is found in many forms, including the best of fertilizers used to make grass thrive. Although this "turf food" has been recommended to the Carmel School District by the Monterey County Health Department as "the best for the job," it does contain a small amount of chlorodane, a toxic insecticide. Because students have criticized its use, the district is having it checked out again to see if something else could, or should be substituted.

AT A BIG JOYFUL STOMP-IN last week dozens of students smashed cans by foot and even by truck. "It's all wonderfully therapeutic...it's a turn-on without drugs" laughed one teacher. The aluminum cans and plates are recycled as part of a continuing aluminum-collection drive at the high school.

THE GOBLINS would have found a happy hall to haunt had they attended the final benefit bridge and canasta party of 1970 held last week at Fellowship Hall. Corn stalks, black and orange napkins, and wide eyed burlap owl tallies set the Halloween theme for the Chapel Guild-sponsored party. Arrangements of strawflowers in miniature pots were the take-home-centerpiece-prizes awarded the lucky table prize winners. They were Maj. (ret.) Billie Mans, Foxx B. Doudna, Eunice Tucker, Muriel Dawson, Sally Dane, Hazel Carp, Tillie MacDonald, Bertha Starkweather and Mary Rosecrans.

Welcomed back from her summer home in Maine was Dorothy Edwards and guests, Letha Regis and Lou Harkins. Hostesses were Mmes. Richard Sinclair, Elsie Siemens, Rosa Clark, and Vera Stokes. The foursome served sherry cake, a specialty from Beverly Sinclair's kitchen, during the dessert hour. Florence Holmes won the first place in bridge, Dori Ford, second; Mary Walls first in canasta, and Natalie Compass second.

The Guild members will look forward to seeing everyone at the November 14 Holiday Boutique and Luncheon which replaces the November card party. The parties resume in January.

"ARROYO SECO POKER TOUR" was the activity planned by members of GRAMPA for October. On the 17th with their families and a picnic lunch they pointed their "Good Restored Model 'A's" toward Arroyo Seco via River Road out of Salinas. It proved to be one of those special fall days you always remember topped off with a stop at the Cahoon Ranch at Jamesburg enroute home to help Mrs. Cahoon celebrate her birthday.

GEORGIA GALLOWAY was feted with a dinner party honoring her Libra birthday by her mother, Mrs. Florence Galloway. Following toasts dinner was served from a table centered with lavender spider mums. Present were Miss Roberta Little, Lt. Tom Crews, USN, Mrs. Lucille Hobson and Georgia's grandfather, Carl Holm. Mr. Holm has recently moved from San Pedro to Morro Bay where he has purchased a mobile home for his retirement.

At a Sunday brunch at the Galloway home in Robles Del Rio the week before, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Diner of San Francisco and Middle Canyon Road were congratulated on their 35th wedding anniversary which falls on Columbus Day.

THE CARMEL VALLEY LIONETTES enjoyed a Tupperware party demonstrated by Corrine Dupont at their October meeting held at the Upper Circle home of Mrs. Peter Garneau. Birthdays celebrated during the dessert hour were those of Mrs. Jack Black, Mrs. Gerald Carpenter and the hostess, Mrs. Garneau. Mrs. Herman Tedrow was winner of the traditional door prize. The plans were completed for the Halloween party to be held at the Community Center on Saturday for Lions members and their families. A progress report was made on the Bake Sale scheduled for Nov. 21 to be held at the former site of the Pampered Hamper in the Talbott Building.

THE CARMEL VALLEY KIWANIS CLUB welcomed two new members at the luncheon meeting Tuesday at Los Laureles Lodge. They are Robert Wehe and Rick Pfitzer, Jr. Guests were Brian Bennett and Jim Kaller representing the Carmel High School Key Club who obtained signatures for the bicycle trail on the Valley Road. Also attending were Bob Brewer and Howard Byne. Guest speaker was a representative from the Monterey County Sheriff's Dept. His topic "Burglary" listed as one of the leading major crimes in our country with the highest percentage committed by minors or casual criminals. The sergeant listed preventative means by businessmen or private citizens such as installing adequate lights, locks, alarms and the physical security of the business or home as the most effective in deterring the efforts of even the most determined burglar.

CMDR. (RET.) AND MRS. WILLIAM STOWERS of Country Club Drive accompanied by Bill's Mother, Mrs. Vivian Bolser of Salinas, recently returned from Washington where they were guests in the beautiful new home of Bill's cousin and wife who are cherry orchard growers near Wenatchee. They traveled north inland visiting their property at Lake Shastina; stopped in Bend and Roseburg; and watched their son's football team, the California Golden Bears, score a victory over the Washington Huskies at Seattle. Returning down the coast route they sampled the fresh seafood catches at Westport, Cannon Beach, Tallamook and Lincoln City.

ALL JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL students are invited to join the Junior High Youth Fellowship of the Community Chapel when they hold their roller skating party Friday night, November 6. They will meet first at 6:15 at Fellowship Hall for a pizza party. Accompanying the group will be their advisor Mrs. Leonard Rhoades and Mrs. Theo Mirani. Please phone reservations for the evening to Mrs. Rhoades (659-2071) so that there will be ample transportation ... and PLENTY of pizza!

Another activity planned by the group who now boast 24 members will be a bike hike on November 21. A short business meeting will be held at the church at 10:00 a.m. before leaving for one of the local ranches for a picnic lunch. The girls are asked to provide the food and the boys the beverage.

Recent fun meets have included a beach party and a candle making session at the church.

VERA STOKES and her daughter, Lois Deal, have just returned from Albuquerque New Mexico, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Terry Wilson and sons, Jeff, Clint and Mike. Donna is their daughter and granddaughter and with her family formerly lived in the Valley. Their flight south had a 100 mile an hour tailwind so they arrived half an hour early and their return trip was delayed three hours because their plane was grounded in Chicago by a bomb scare. Their ten days there was equally exciting with visits to "Old Town" with its Indian-built adobe buildings; Santa Fe, old ghost mining towns, an Indian reservation, a tram ride to the 10,860 foot crest of Sandia Mountain in the moonlight where they dined at Summit House, and the thirteenth birthday celebration of their grandson, and great-grandson, Jeff.

HEAR THAT since several of the Mission 200 Carmel Lions Club members were injured in the Donkey baseball game, they have decided that Ping Pong is a little more in their line and have dared the Valley Club to meet them at as yet an undetermined time and place. The local club has of course accepted the challenge ... you KNOW those Carmel Valley Lions will try ANYTHING in the name of charity! Activities in a more serious vein will take place November 7 and 8 when the District 4C4-4C6 Cabinet meets on the Peninsula. A Golf Tournament is scheduled for Saturday at the Rancho Canada Country Club; a no host Cocktail party will be held at 6:30 followed by a buffet dinner at 7:30 at the Holiday Inn in Carmel. That night a Real Western Hoe-Down featuring Big Jim De Noon and his cowboy band will be held at the Chief Petty Officers Club at the Naval Air Facilities followed by a Midnight Supper. A joint cabinet meeting will be held on Sunday at the Holiday Inn with a fashion show and brunch planned for the ladies.

Choraleers to perform for Woman's Club

The Choraleers, under the direction of Mrs. Nancy Stone, will appear at the regular meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club on November 2 at 2 p.m.

This talented group of women singers was organized seven years ago under the Monterey Adult Recreation Department and has enjoyed a constantly growing demand. There are approximately 45 women who "sing for fun."

Their repertory consists mainly of popular, light music and show tunes. They have sung for many city functions on the Peninsula, service clubs and in the wards of convalescent hospitals and Fort Ord.

Mrs. Nancy Taylor accompanies the group.

Those pouring at the tea following the program will be Mrs. Robert Bannister, Mrs. Douglas Aiken, Mrs. Frank Galland and Mrs.

VISION CARE

by Dr. R.E. Marlin,
Consulting Optometrist

How often should you blink your eyes?

Dear Miss J.B.

The normal blink rate is 20 to 30 times a minute. Almost half the time you are awake your eyes are closed. Think of the nervous and muscular energy required to open and close your eyes 30,000 times - day after day. Blinking is necessary to keep the eye moist. If the cornea were to dry out, you would lose your vision.

Why do contact lenses make you blink so much?

If fit properly, they don't make you blink. Mostly its that you are now conscious of blinking, and at first feel the lid go over the edge of the lens. If the blinking doesn't return to normal, you may need different lenses.

F.D. Tellwright. Hostesses include Miss Alma Anderson, Mrs. L.F. Bosshardt, Mrs. Frank G. Born, Mrs. Arrigo M. Young, Mrs. Newton Wise, Miss Hazel Zimmerman.

Over 100 offer blood in Carmel Valley last week

WAYNE FARR draws the names of the donors who will win theatre tickets to see "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" at the Community Theatre. His father, Bill Farr, looks on. The ticket winners: Al Hood, Joe Wirkkala, Dick McKenzie, Darlene Kohnke and Robt. Dorsey. Photos by Jody Cooper.

Ninety seven pints of grade "A" blood were collected during the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile last Thursday, falling only 3 pints short of the goal of 100 pints. Mrs. Thos. McKiernon, general chairman for Carmel Valley, reported that 51 new donors were present plus 54 former donors. Of the 105 possible donors present, 8 were unable to give for various reasons. Twenty units of blood were used by 8 C.V. people since the drawing last May.

The following donors were present:

Alex Collins, Louis Gardner, Fanny Rose, W. La Valley, Sal Ocampo, Don Weber, Joan Zielinski, Patricia Rowedder, Lori Kashfi, Joe Wirkkala, Donald Tucker, Claire Stewart, Francis H. For more jobs!

Vote YES on 10.

CALIFORNIANS FOR YES ON 10 Art Linkletter & Tom Bradley Co-Chairmen

If you want more jobs for California, you're for Proposition 10!

Proposition 10 will get our economy going again by making more money available for new homes and apartments, shopping centers and office buildings. And that means more jobs!

How will Proposition 10 do this?

By doing away with California's out-of-date interest laws on large business loans (the kind of loans vital to the construction industry)—and opening them up to free competition. New York passed a law like Proposition 10 way back in 1850. That's one reason why California will this year be deprived of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a billion dollars which will go to help New York and 44 other states with more modern laws.

Proposition 10 will change all this without costing you a penny or changing the interest you pay in any way. (In fact, it might even lower it in the long run.)

That's why Proposition 10 was passed unanimously by the State Legislature and signed by Governor Reagan. Former Governor Pat Brown supports it. So do business and labor unions. But their endorsements can't make it law without your YES.

So help them by voting YES November 3. You'll be doing a good job for a lot of good people.

BEAUTIFICATION PROJECTS sometimes start off being anything but. This mass of tires wired together on the bank of the Carmel River on the Wolter's property isn't anybody's idea of scenic grandeur, right now. Working in conjunction with county officials, Luis and Russell Wolter are in the process of planting willows in the bottom 10 rows of tires.

When the River rises this winter, it will cover the tires with silt. In two or three years the bank should be completely covered by "natural growth" and the tires will be but a memory. If the Board of Supervisors passes a Carmel River ordinance next week, no alteration of any kind will be allowed along the banks of the river without a special permit.

LEGAL NOTICE NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED ORDINANCE FOR THE CARMEL RIVER

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey has set Wednesday, the 4th day of November, 1970, at the hour of 11:00 a.m. in the Chambers of said Board Courthouse, Salinas, California, as the time and place for a public hearing on a proposed Ordinance prohibiting interference with, or construction or excavation within, the Carmel River or the Banks of any Levee Thereof, a copy of which Ordinance is attached hereto and marked Exhibit "A".

DATED: October 20, 1970
EMMET G. McMENAMIN,
Clerk of the said Board of Supervisors
EXHIBIT "A"

ORDINANCE NO. _____
AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING INTERFERENCE WITH, OR CONSTRUCTION OR EXCAVATION
WITHIN, THE CARMEL RIVER OR THE BANKS OR ANY LEVEE THEREOF.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
OF THE COUNTY OF MONTEREY
DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. DEFINITIONS

(a) Carmel River: Carmel River as used in this ordinance, means that portion of the Carmel River lying between San Clemente Dam and the Pacific Ocean; that portion of the Las Gazas Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 400 feet above sea level; that portion of Robinson Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 200 feet above sea level; that portion of Tulareitos Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 1200 feet above sea level; that portion of Hitchcock Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 600 feet above sea level, and that portion of Potrero Creek below U.S. Geological Survey elevation 100 feet above sea level.

(b) Structure: Structure, as used in this ordinance, is defined as any wall, retaining wall, crib wall, bulkhead, dwelling, business structure, garage, barn, outbuilding, trench, pipe, pole, conduit, fence, wire or anything made or constructed which has its foundation or means of support upon, under or within the surface of the earth.

(c) Rubbish: Rubbish, as used in this ordinance, is defined as any substance which is not readily soluble in water or, if soluble, is contaminated chemically or organically, except chemicals or organisms occurring naturally.

(d) Levee: Levee, as used in this ordinance, is defined as an elongated mound of dirt or earth paralleling and adjacent to the outer edges of the Carmel River.

(e) Bank of the river, as used in this ordinance, is defined as the sloping sides of the river course and extends to the top of such slope. Whenever the tops of the slopes on opposite sides of the river vary in elevation more than five (5) feet, the top of the slope having the greater elevation shall be deemed to be at an elevation equal to five (5) feet above the highest point on the opposite slope. Each bank of the river shall include the bottom of the river and shall extend to the centerline of river.

(f) Bank of the River in mountain country: In mountain country or other areas where it is difficult to distinguish between the sloping parts of a bank and the surrounding country, that is, where the surrounding country is an extension of the banks of the river, the banks of the river, as used in this ordinance, are defined as a strip of land lying parallel to and adjoining the thread of the river, and extending on each side of said thread a distance of fifty (50) feet, measured horizontally and at right angles to the course of such thread.

(g) Centerline: Centerline of the river, as used in this ordinance, is defined as a line within, and along the length of, the river at a distance from the top of the slopes equal to one half (1/2) the distance between the tops of the slopes of a bank of the river.

(h) Person, firm or corporation shall include public agency.

SECTION 2.
The Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey hereby declares and finds that it is necessary to keep the Carmel River free from obstacles and materials which tend to prevent, change or retard the flow of water in said river in order to promote and protect the public health, safety, comfort, convenience, and the general welfare of those residing in Carmel Valley.

SECTION 3. PROHIBITIONS

It shall be unlawful after the effective date of this ordinance for any person, firm or corporation to do, or cause to be done, any of the following without having first secured a permit from the Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey.

(a) Construct, place or maintain any structure within the banks of the Carmel River or upon any levee thereof.

(b) Excavate upon or within the banks of the Carmel River, or any levee thereof.

(c) Deposit rubbish upon a levee, or upon or within the banks of the Carmel River; or discharge waters carrying silt or other forms of suspended rubbish.

(d) Construct or place any outlet for discharging drainage waters upon or within the banks of the Carmel River.

(e) Plant any form of flora upon or within the banks of the Carmel River or any levee thereof, other than grasses, annual crops or willows upon the banks or levees to prevent erosion.

(f) Construct or place any structure closer than fifteen (15) feet to the top of the bank of the Carmel River or any levee thereof.

Provided however, no act hereinabove described shall be unlawful if done during an emergency caused by flood, either present or threatened, and if a permit for such act is immediately thereafter applied for, and further that if a permit for said act is not secured, the person so acting shall thereafter forthwith remove any such structure or outlet, fill and compact any such excavation and restore the banks and levees of the Carmel River to the state they would have been but for the act so done in an emergency.

SECTION 4. APPLICATION FOR PERMIT

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation desiring a permit to do any of the acts for which a permit is required pursuant to this ordinance, shall make application for such permit to the Board of Supervisors of the County of Monterey. This application shall specify:

1. Action intended.
2. Applicant's name, address and telephone number.
3. Date of application.
4. Location of proposed work.
5. Name of owner of property.
6. Name of the contractor who will do the work if known.
7. A drawing or plan clearly describing any proposed structure, and the materials and type of construction to be employed, which shall show a cross section, plan and profile of said proposed structure.

8. A drawing or plan clearly describing any area or removal of any sand, gravel, or material of any kind.

9. A description and plot plan of existing structures upon the property of the owner near the proposed structure or area of work.

10. The time required for completion shown in calendar days.

SECTION 5. INVESTIGATION AND REPORT

Upon receipt of such application for a permit the Board of Supervisors shall, within fifteen (15) days, refer said application to one or more officers or employees of the County of Monterey, or of the Monterey County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, with directions to make such investigations as said officer or employee deems necessary to determine whether or not the proposed work or activities intended will contaminate the river water, impede, restrict, retard, change the direction of the flow of water, catch or collect debris carried by such water, is located where natural flow of the storm or flood waters will carry any intended structure or any part thereof downstream, or will, in the opinion of said officer or employee, damage, weaken, erode, or reduce the effectiveness of the banks to withhold storm or flood waters. In order to make said investigation, said officer or employee may return said application or improvement plans to the applicant for such additional information, structural analysis, or soil tests, as may be required to complete his investigation.

Said officer or employee shall, within thirty (30) days after the application is referred to him, report on his investigations and make a recommendation to the Board as to the issuance of a permit and his recommendation as to conditions should a permit be granted.

SECTION 6. HEARING ON APPLICATION

(a) Within fifteen (15) days after receiving said report the Board of Supervisors shall set said application for hearing within thirty (30) days thereafter. The Clerk of said Board shall give written notice by United States mail to the applicant of the time, date and place of hearing.

(b) At the hearing it shall be incumbent upon the applicant to show to the satisfaction of the Board of Supervisors that denial of a permit or the attaching of the conditions recommended will cause undue hardship on the applicant, and prevent him from a reasonable use of the property, and that the structure or activity so proposed will not contaminate the river water, will not impede, restrict, retard, or change the direction of the flow of water in the river; will not catch debris carried by such water; is not placed where the natural flow of the storm and flood waters will carry the structures or any part thereof downstream; and will not damage, weaken, erode, or reduce the effectiveness of the banks to withhold storm and flood water.

(c) If the Board of Supervisors determines that the permit should be issued, it shall issue the same and may set forth such conditions thereto as in its judgment are necessary to carry out the objectives of this ordinance.

SECTION 7. PERFORMANCE OF PERMITTED WORK.
(a) The permit, when issued, shall constitute authority for the applicant to proceed according to the conditions, if any, of the permit.

(b) All work for which a permit is required shall be subject to such administrative regulation as may be necessary to insure complete inspection.

(c) If the work is not done in accordance with the terms of the permit then the permittee shall be considered to have violated the terms of this ordinance.

SECTION 8. PENALTY.
Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, or failing to satisfy the terms of a permit issued, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a period not to exceed six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Hearing on river ordinance to be held next Wednesday

The Monterey County Board of Supervisors will hold a public hearing on an ordinance to protect the Carmel River on Wednesday, Nov. 4, at 11 a.m. at Salinas.

The ordinance, drafted by Supervisor Willard Branson, would make it illegal to build, excavate, dump or plant anything other than grass, willows or annual crops along the banks of the river without a special permit from the Board of Supervisors.

The restricted area would include the river between San Clemente Dam and the Pacific Ocean, and portions of Las Gazas, Tulareitos, Hitchcock and Potrero Creeks.

The only exception would be emergency action taken because of a real or threatened flood, provided that a permit is applied for immediately afterwards.

The ordinance under consideration was redrafted following a public meeting on the issue held at the Carmel Valley Community Center in late August. The complete text of the ordinance appears as a legal notice in this edition of the Outlook.

Organ Concert at Village

Chapel this Sunday evening

A well-known professional organist, Thomas Hazleton, will give a varied organ recital Sunday evening at 8 p.m. at the Carmel Valley Community Chapel. Among the famous composers who will be included in his program are J.S. Bach, Richard Purvis and G.F. Handel.

The organist is provided by the Rodgers Organ Company whose organ was recently installed in the Carmel Valley Community Chapel on Paso Hondo Road.

Rev. Don Johnson stated that it is very seldom that an organ of this fine type is installed in a small chapel and together with the chimes provides an eloquent and impressive church music. There will be a short service of dedication. This beautiful instrument of worship was made possible through the untiring efforts of Mrs. James Ziegler, for several years chairman of the music committee. A substantial gift from her mother Mrs. Marie Nast Wherry of Cincinnati, together with a series of nine concerts Mrs. Ziegler and Mrs. Seung Park arranged for the Chapel made possible this fine organ.

Among the well-known artists who performed for these benefits were: Mrs. Norma Jean Hodges of Carmel, Ned Chapman, pianist of New York City and Mr. and Mrs. Seung Paik Park of Monterey.

Mr. Hazleton's recital program will be as follows: Trumpet Voluntary - Henry Purcell, Jesu Joy of Man's Desiring - J.S. Bach, Toccata and Fugue in D Minor - J.S. Bach, Largo - G.F. Handel, Piece Heroique - Cesar Franck, Prelude & Canzona - Louis Vierne, Carillon - Leo Sowerby, Amen Finale - Marcel Dupre, Of Moor and Fen - Richard Purvis, Fanfare - Richard Purvis.

The public is invited to attend this recital; refreshments will be served by the choir and music committee.

"GIRL BEFORE THE GATE" is the title of this painting by Valley artist Barbara Johnson, which will be awarded on Oct. 31 to someone who has contributed to the "Invest in Beauty" fund-raising drive sponsored by the Village Committee of the Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce. Tickets are on sale at all Village stores to raise money for trees and shrubs, sidewalks and other improvements in the Village. Several paintings and other works of art have been donated for the drive, and all are on display at the Carmel Valley branch of the Bank of America. Winners will be announced at 3 p.m. Oct. 31 at the Village Gallery on Delfino Place.

The Rhyming Philosopher HELPUFULLNESS

Sure, the world is full of people, big and small,
Fair and ugly, fat and skinny, short and tall,
But if hardship, hurt and sorrow
Make you fear to face tomorrow,
Can you name a friend to count on at your call?

There are many who will greet you with a smile,
And there's some who make your efforts seem
worthwhile,

But when trouble finds you lacking
Just the right amount of backing,
Tell me, who've you got to help you up in style?

Though your relatives are numerous or few,
Counting cousins, aunts, and maybe brothers, too,
Have you noticed they act funny
When you try to borrow money,
Then they disappear or wave a toodle-oo!

If you really have a friend, you're all too rare,
For to be a friend is something few will dare;
An acquaintance, to be candid,
Can't be summoned when you're stranded,
And so when you're cold and hungry, who will care?

If you want to be a friend, search out a need,
Or discover some poor neighbor you can feed;
Give with love and understanding
Minus preaching, reprimanding,
Then you'll truly be a friend in word and deed.

Environmental health starts at home...

Students spark interest in Carmel High

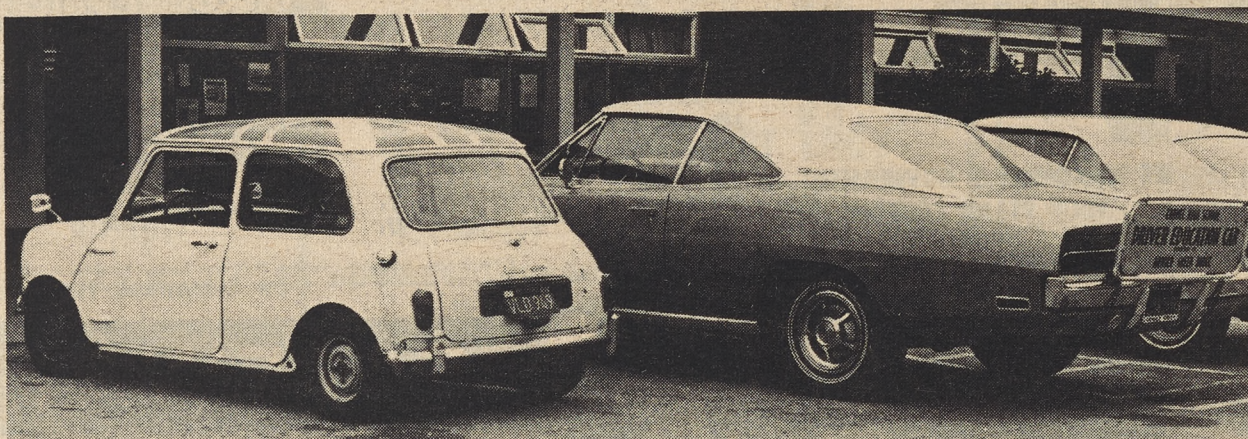

JUNK...TRASH...by any name the wooded gully behind Carmel High School is a mess. Ted Weller kicks aside cans, trimmings, bricks and debris as he walks down the hill. Much of the dumping is done by Carmel residents, and some labels of toxic insecticides found around here were for products the school district has never used. The area is almost impossible to police and, obviously, difficult to clean up.

STUDENTS FORAGING behind Carmel High School came across two dozen large metal boxes, some still partly wrapped in corrugated cartons, that have apparently been abandoned in a ravine behind the school. The cases contain some sort of electrical equipment, but their main use to date has been as benches for students who happen to wander into the area. Here Christi Foster looks them over while Ted Weller, partially hidden by the tree at left, collected still another can for the aluminum collection pile.

BIGGER IS NOT ALWAYS BEST contend students at Carmel High School, who would like to see a four or six cylinder car, possibly like the small Austin at left, substituted for high-powered eight cylinder American cars in the driver education program. Even a small Detroit model, they argue, would cause somewhat less air pollution and would be less expensive for the school district to operate. The superintendent's office and the school are checking out the suggestion.

By PAT GRIFFITH

Students who have been checking the environmental health of Carmel High School found out last week that they're not alone in their intense concern about pollution and ecology. Superintendent of Schools Harris Taylor, Business Manager Walter Hinton and scores of classified employees working in various schools have quietly taken several steps in the last several months to eliminate environmental hazards.

"For instance, we no longer burn anything at all in the school district," Taylor said. "We stopped that last May, partly as the result of letters from students at Middle School who were concerned about the use of incinerators, and partly because of our own concern about the atmosphere."

"We're probably one of the few public agencies to do this, and we've done it voluntarily."

Taylor said the district has always been concerned about using potentially dangerous insecticides, fertilizers or cleaners, and has a thick file of correspondence with the Monterey County Health Department asking for advice and specific suggestions on what to use.

"And we've talked about mulching, or having a compost heap, with a man from the Mosquito Abatement District," Taylor continued. "He said that would create so many flies that unless the school went ahead and sprayed, the youngsters would have to learn to live with flies everywhere."

OIL DUMPED

Hinton said he found out that old oil from school buses was

A BLACKENED SLOPE behind the crowded, totally inadequate bus yard at the high school marks where oil drained from school busses has been discarded for several years. Business manager Walter Hinton stopped this procedure as soon as he was told about it by students, but so far the district has not found any good use for the old oil.

being dumped down a slope behind the high school about three weeks ago, and ordered the practice discontinued immediately.

He said the district is now trying to find some use for the old oil, which is being stored temporarily in barrels awaiting disposal.

"Maybe this could be useful somewhere," Hinton said. "We're going to find out. Of course labor costs come into this too, when it comes to storing and transporting it. There are many things we have to take into consideration."

Several students in the high school humanities class surveyed their campus recently in an attempt to find out how the overall environment was faring. One of those who decided to pursue the study was Doug McCall, who also happens to be the student representative on the Carmel School Board.

McCall's informal report to board members at the last meeting included recommendations that the district use a non-toxic fertilizer on the athletic field, save cuttings and grass trimmings for a compost heap, and substitute small four or six cylinder cars for eight cylinder models in the driver education program. All these suggestions are under consideration now.

"We're happy to review our procedures with students, and if they can show us a better way to do something, we'll be glad to consider it," Taylor said last week.

"This is not a one-time effort. I'm sure we'll find better processes and procedures as we go along, and there will be a variety of new concerns in the future.

"I think this is one area in which everyone can work well together."

IN THE AGE OF ECOLOGY, danger is found in many forms, including the best of fertilizers used to make grass thrive. Although this "turf food" has been recommended to the Carmel School District by the Monterey County Health Department as "the best for the job," it does contain a small amount of chlorodane, a toxic insecticide. Because students have criticized its use, the district is having it checked out again to see if something else could, or should be substituted.

Photos by George T.C. Smith

AT A BIG JOYFUL STOMP-IN last week dozens of students smashed cans by foot and even by truck. "It's all wonderfully therapeutic...it's a turn-on without drugs" laughed one teacher. The aluminum cans and plates are recycled as part of a continuing aluminum-collection drive at the high school.

UNDER THE OAKS & AMONG THE CACTI

By Mildred Hattan

THE GOBLINS would have found a happy hall to haunt had they attended the final benefit bridge and canasta party of 1970 held last week at Fellowship Hall. Corn stalks, black and orange napkins, and wide eyed burlap owl tallies set the Halloween theme for the Chapel Guild-sponsored party. Arrangements of strawflowers in miniature pots were the take-home-centerpiece-prizes awarded the lucky table prize winners. They were Maj. (ret.) Billie Mans, Foxx B. Doudna, Eunice Tucker, Muriel Dawson, Sally Dane, Hazel Carp, Tillie MacDonald, Bertha Starkweather and Mary Rosecrans.

Welcomed back from her summer home in Maine was Dorothy Edwards and guests, Letha Regis and Lou Harkins. Hostesses were Mmes. Richard Sinclair, Elsie Siemens, Rosa Clark, and Vera Stokes. The foursome served sherry cake, a specialty from Beverly Sinclair's kitchen, during the dessert hour. Florence Holmes won the first place in bridge, Dori Ford, second; Mary Walls first in canasta, and Natalie Compass second.

The Guild members will look forward to seeing everyone at the November 14 Holiday Boutique and Luncheon which replaces the November card party. The parties resume in January.

"ARROYO SECO POKER TOUR" was the activity planned by members of GRAMPA for October. On the 17th with their families and a picnic lunch they pointed their "Good Restored Model 'A's" toward Arroyo Seco via River Road out of Salinas. It proved to be one of those special fall days you always remember topped off with a stop at the Cahoon Ranch at Jamesburg enroute home to help Mrs. Cahoon celebrate her birthday.

GEORGIA GALLOWAY was feted with a dinner party honoring her Libra birthday by her mother, Mrs. Florence Galloway. Following toasts dinner was served from a table centered with lavender spider mums. Present were Miss Roberta Little, Lt. Tom Crews, USN, Mrs. Lucille Hobson and Georgia's grandfather, Carl Holm. Mr. Holm has recently moved from San Pedro to Morro Bay where he has purchased a mobile home for his retirement.

At a Sunday brunch at the Galloway home in Robles Del Rio the week before, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Diner of San Francisco and Middle Canyon Road were congratulated on their 35th wedding anniversary which falls on Columbus Day.

THE CARMEL VALLEY LIONETTES enjoyed a Tupperware party demonstrated by Corrine Dupont at their October meeting held at the Upper Circle home of Mrs. Peter Garneau. Birthdays celebrated during the dessert hour were those of Mrs. Jack Black, Mrs. Gerald Carpenter and the hostess, Mrs. Garneau. Mrs. Herman Tedrow was winner of the traditional door prize. The plans were completed for the Halloween party to be held at the Community Center on Saturday for Lions members and their families. A progress report was made on the Bake Sale scheduled for Nov. 21 to be held at the former site of the Pampered Hamper in the Talbott Building.

THE CARMEL VALLEY KIWANIS CLUB welcomed two new members at the luncheon meeting Tuesday at Los Laureles Lodge. They are Robert Wehe and Rick Pfitzer, Jr. Guests were Brian Bennett and Jim Kaller representing the Carmel High School Key Club who obtained signatures for the bicycle trail on the Valley Road. Also attending were Bob Brewer and Howard Byne. Guest speaker was a representative from the Monterey County Sheriff's Dept. His topic "Burglary" listed as one of the leading major crimes in our country with the highest percentage committed by minors or casual criminals. The sergeant listed preventative means by businessmen or private citizens such as installing adequate lights, locks, alarms and the physical security of the business or home as the most effective in deterring the efforts of even the most determined burglar.

CMDR. (RET.) AND MRS. WILLIAM STOWERS of Country Club Drive accompanied by Bill's Mother, Mrs. Vivian Bolser of Salinas, recently returned from Washington where they were guests in the beautiful new home of Bill's cousin and wife who are cherry orchard growers near Wenatchee. They traveled north inland visiting their property at Lake Shastina; stopped in Bend and Roseburg; and watched their son's football team, the California Golden Bears, score a victory over the Washington Huskies at Seattle. Returning down the coast route they sampled the fresh seafood catches at Westport, Cannon Beach, Tallamook and Lincoln City.

ALL JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL students are invited to join the Junior High Youth Fellowship of the Community Chapel when they hold their roller skating party Friday night, November 6. They will meet first at 6:15 at Fellowship Hall for a pizza party. Accompanying the group will be their advisor Mrs. Leonard Rhoades and Mrs. Theo Mirani. Please phone reservations for the evening to Mrs. Rhoades (659-2071) so that there will be ample transportation ... and PLENTY of pizza!

Another activity planned by the group who now boast 24 members will be a bike hike on November 21. A short business meeting will be held at the church at 10:00 a.m. before leaving for one of the local ranches for a picnic lunch. The girls are asked to provide the food and the boys the beverage.

Recent fun meets have included a beach party and a candle making session at the church.

VERA STOKES and her daughter, Lois Deal, have just returned from Albuquerque New Mexico, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Terry Wilson and sons, Jeff, Clint and Mike. Donna is their daughter and granddaughter and with her family formerly lived in the Valley. Their flight south had a 100 mile an hour tailwind so they arrived half an hour early and their return trip was delayed three hours because their plane was grounded in Chicago by a bomb scare. Their ten days there was equally exciting with visits to "Old Town" with its Indian-built adobe buildings; Santa Fe, old ghost mining towns, an Indian reservation, a tram ride to the 10,860 foot crest of Sandia Mountain in the moonlight where they dined at Summit House, and the thirteenth birthday celebration of their grandson, and great-grandson, Jeff.

HEAR THAT since several of the Mission 200 Carmel Lions Club members were injured in the Donkey baseball game, they have decided that Ping Pong is a little more in their line and have dared the Valley Club to meet them at as yet an undetermined time and place. The local club has of course accepted the challenge ... you KNOW those Carmel Valley Lions will try ANYTHING in the name of charity! Activities in a more serious vein will take place November 7 and 8 when the District 4C4-C6 Cabinet meets on the Peninsula. A Golf Tournament is scheduled for Saturday at the Rancho Canada Country Club; a no host Cocktail party will be held at 6:30 followed by a buffet dinner at 7:30 at the Holiday Inn in Carmel. That night a Real Western Hoe-Down featuring Big Jim De Noon and his cowboy band will be held at the Chief Petty Officers Club at the Naval Air Facilities followed by a Midnight Supper. A joint cabinet meeting will be held on Sunday at the Holiday Inn with a fashion show and brunch planned for the ladies.

VISION CARE

by Dr. R.E. Marlin,
Consulting Optometrist

How often should you blink your eyes?

Dear Miss J.B.

The normal blink rate is 20 to 30 times a minute. Almost half the time you are awake your eyes are closed. Think of the nervous and muscular energy required to open and close your eyes 30,000 times -- day after day. Blinking is necessary to keep the eye moist. If the cornea were to dry out, you would lose your vision.

Why do contact lenses make you blink so much?

If fit properly, they don't make you blink. Mostly its that you are now conscious of blinking, and at first feel the lid go over the edge of the lens. If the blinking doesn't return to normal, you may need different lenses.

F.D. Tellwright. Hostesses include Miss Alma Anderson, Mrs. L.F. Bosshardt, Mrs. Frank G. Born, Mrs. Arrigo M. Young, Mrs. Newton Wise, Miss Hazel Zimmerman.

School board

meets tonight

Reports on grading in elementary schools and in physical education classes will be presented at tonight's meeting of the Carmel board of education, starting at 7:30 p.m. in Brey Hall at Carmel High School.

Also on the agenda are a report on the 1970 summer school program, a report on the girls' athletic program at the high school, and a request for adoption of new policies on free and reduced price lunches for needy pupils.

The telephone committee for the C.V. Blood Bank last week were Mrs. Helen Thomsen, Mrs. John Woods, Mrs. Paul Porter, Mrs.

KENNEDY

For more jobs!

Vote YES on 10.

CALIFORNIANS FOR YES ON 10 Art Linkletter & Tom Bradley Co-Chairmen

If you want more jobs for California, you're for Proposition 10!

Proposition 10 will get our economy going again by making more money available for new homes and apartments, shopping centers and office buildings. And that means more jobs!

How will Proposition 10 do this?

By doing away with California's out-of-date interest laws on large business loans (the kind of loans vital to the construction industry)—and opening them up to free competition. New York passed a law like Proposition 10 way back in 1850. That's one reason why California will this year be deprived of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a billion dollars which will go to help New York and 44 other states with more modern laws.

Proposition 10 will change all this without costing you a penny or changing the interest you pay in any way. (In fact, it might even lower it in the long run.)

That's why Proposition 10 was passed unanimously by the State Legislature and signed by Governor Reagan. Former Governor Pat Brown supports it. So do business and labor unions. But their endorsements can't make it law without your YES.

So help them by voting YES November 3. You'll be doing a good job for a lot of good people.

Paid for by Californians for Yes on 10
